

HAMID VAKILZADIAN

Hamid Vakilzadian has been an electrical engineer for thirty years. He received his Masters and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Arizona in 1979 and 1985 respectively. Since graduation, he has been with the Department of Electrical Engineering at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln teaching undergrad and grad courses and doing research. Dr. Vakilzadian is a senior member of IEEE since 1987, and has served as the Region 4 West Area Chair and the organizer of eit2005 conference. He has also served the Nebraska Section in various capacities, ranging from Computer Society Chapter Chair to the Nebraska Section Chair and is currently the 2007 Region 4 PACE Coordinator.