

ABBY VOGEL

Abby Vogel serves as chair of the IEEE-USA Communications Committee and as an editor for IEEE-USA Today's Engineer. She recently authored two IEEE-USA E-books for the new GOLD series called Launching Your Career titled "How to Find Your Perfect Job" and "How to Make the Transition from the Classroom to the Office". Vogel became involved in IEEE-USA after the organization sponsored her for an AAAS Mass Media Science & Engineering Fellowship to work at the Richmond Times-Dispatch as a science reporter during the summer of 2005. After earning her Ph.D. in bioengineering from the University of Maryland in 2007, Vogel joined the Georgia Institute of Technology's Research News and Publications office as a communications officer. In this position, she writes about Georgia Tech research discoveries and developments, and assists reporters in their coverage of Georgia Tech research.

* * *

LAUNCHING YOUR CAREER

This presentation will contain early career advice for graduating students, recent graduates and young engineers from two recently published e-books entitled, "How to Find Your Perfect Job" and "How to Make the Transition from the Classroom to the Office." The presentation will help you define your personal, long-term career goals, and provide a practical roadmap to find your ideal job. It will also teach you ways to get your career off to a fast and satisfying start by making a smooth transition to the working world.