

MICHAEL-JOHN BRISTOW

Michael-John Bristow is a consultant and master-trainer at Targeted Learning, a company dedicated to helping organizations fully engage the talents and energies of their people.

Michael-John's international experience and dynamic speaking style make him a highly regarded trainer and speaker. His clients include Fortune 500 companies such as Boeing, ConocoPhillips, Monsanto and Textron. He has also been a keynote speaker at several professional conferences.

Michael-John has a B.S. degree in Neuroscience and began his career as a trainer at Kaplan, the world's largest test preparation company. At Kaplan he was responsible for helping people prepare for graduate school tests such as the MCAT and GMAT. He was also responsible for training other Kaplan instructors for the state of Utah.

Michael-John has been with Targeted Learning for three years and speaks on a variety of topics, including leadership, influencing others, coaching and career management skills. In addition to his teaching responsibilities, he has co-authored several professional development guides and workshops created by Targeted Learning.

Michael-John currently lives in Lindon, UT with his wife and nine-month-old daughter.