SCIENCE-ENGINEERING-TECHNOLOGY

28-29 APRIL
WASHINGTON, D.C.

WHAT IS CONGRESSIONAL VISITS DAY?

CVD is a two-day annual event in Washington, D.C., that brings together scientists, engineers, researchers, educators, and technology executives to raise visibility and support for science, engineering and technology. Uniquely multi-sector and multi-disciplinary, CVD is coordinated by a coalition of companies, professional societies and educational institutions, and is open to all who support research and development activities. The event consists of a series of briefings, a Congressional reception, and highlighted by meetings with your Congressional delegation.

OBJECTIVE

To underscore the long-term importance of science and technology that supports the Nation's global competitiveness, through meetings with Members of Congress, Congressional staff, key Administration officials and other decision makers.

CORE MESSAGES

- Balanced Federal investment in science, engineering and technology (SET) is fundamental to the future of our nation's prosperity.
- Effective competitiveness and innovation policies will sustain U.S. technological leadership and encourage the development of a skilled, creative and competitive workforce.
