

You're Invited to an IEEE-USA Roundtable Event!

We'd like to invite you to participate in a roundtable discussion for select members of the small to medium technical business community. IEEE-USA's Entrepreneurship Policy and Innovation Committee hosts an annual discussion focused on the challenges for small technology businesses involving the federal and local government: what they should be doing, stop doing, and keep doing.

Every year, we share the collected findings at a symposium with federal agencies to help guide their policy choices and identify new resources to bring back to the small business community. We would welcome your input at this year's roundtable.
